KERENSKY ABOUT TO STRIKE FOR FINAL POWER

Plans Believed to be On Foot For General Move Against Enemies

HOPES TO SAVE RUSSIA FROM THE BOLSHEVIKI

Revolution Spreading to Moscow According to One Dispatch

KERENSKY ABOUT—Plans

London, Nov. 10.—The battle by which Kerensky hopes to save Russia from the Bolsheviki may be impending around Petrograd today, according to today's interpretation here of Bolsheviki-censored dispatches from the Russian capital.

The proclamation of the Petrograd Soviet of workmen and soldiers that the Kerensky, Kaledine and Korniloff parties are "moving troops to Petrograd" gave the basis for belief in London that the provisional government was about to act with all its strength to stamp out Lenine, Trotsky and their mushroom government.

At the same time there was considerable apprehension here over one dispatch, passed by the Bolsheviki censor at Petrograd and declaring that American Ambassador Francis had received word that the revolution had spread to Moscow. This message asserted the Bolsheviki had repeated their coup at Petrograd in Moscow, assuming control of all governmental machinery.

It had been expected here that Moscow would rally to support of the provisional government. The city has always heretofore been a strong supporter of Kerensky and the provisional government. If it is confirmed that the Bolskeviki now control it, the coup must have been cleverly carried out. The last word received regarding Premier Kerensky was that he was enroute to Moscow, with the expectation of establishing the provisional government's capital there.

The suspicion that Germany's hand was behind the whole Bolsheviki revolt was strengthened today with receipt of dispatches quoting Nicholai Lenine's speech before the all-Russian Council of Workmen and Soldiers. He proposed a program which dovetails exactly with the long continued German peace propaganda. Lenine, presumably spokesman for the new powers installed at Petrograd, proposed a three months' armistice of all warring powers—which would carry Germany through a critical winter, if agreed to—and a conference of representatives of all nations to discuss peace. That conference has been repeatedly urged by the Germans. The only difference was that Lenine added the Bolsheviki trimmings of suggesting that the conferees be "elected" by the people, rather than chosen by the government.

The greatest hope held in England is that Lenine and his lieutenants will stick fast to their determination to work for a general and not a separate peace. No single one of the Allies will even think now of joining any Russian faction in a move for general peace. The Russian catastrophe has rather steeled every individual to greatest realization of the task ahead of them in bringing Germany to terms. So long as Lenine works for a general peace he is doomed to disappointment of any hope for support in England, France, Italy or America.

Every sort of conflicting news from Russia filtered into London today. German-influenced messages told of troops along the northern front joining the Maximalists and marching on Petrograd. Swiss messages insisted word there indicated no spread of the revolt except in the cities where it had originated.

MASKED MOB TAKE I. W. W. MEN

IN BLACK ROBES THEY TAKE CONVICTED MEN AND WHIP AND TAR THEM

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 10—A crowd of masked men in black robes took 17 members of the I. W. W. from policemen early today, lashed them with cat-o'-nine tails and then daubed the bleeding backs with tar and feathers.

The I. W. W.'s had been convicted in police court of vagrancy and fined nearly midnight. The prisoners were being removed from the jail in three automobiles when the black robed men held them up and compelled the police to turn over the men they were guardini.

The prisoners were hurried to a ravine near the cit limits, where they were stripped to the waist. With each stroke of the whips the black robed men shouted "In the name of the outraged women and children of Belgium."

After they had been coated with tar and feathers, the I. W. W.'s were taken farther into the country and started on a run toward the Osage Hills, to the accompaniment of revolver and rifle shots.

JAMES WESTFALL IS BADLY INJURED

Six-year-old Son of Dr. Westfall Hit By Auto On Washington Street This Morning

James, the six-year-old son of Dr. F. E. Westfall, is in serious condition as result of being run down by an automobile on Washington street this morning shortly before noon. The little fellow was on his way to the bank for his father and started across the street just as a car driven by Charles Truesdell of Denton was passing.

The lad was struck by one side of the car and dragged about 15 feet, badly bruising his head and cutting his face. He was carried to Dr. Post's office for immediate examination and then taken home by Dr. Westfall where both doctors gave him attention.

No bones were found broken but symptoms of concussion of the brain made the case appear serious. The boy is resting in a semi-conscious condition and every effort is of course being made to restore him.

Truesdell says his steering gear was new and stiff and he was unable to turn out, partly on that account and partly on account of machines passing near him.

CHINA REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE U. S.-JAP TREATY

Officials Declare Nation Has Been Double Crossed By Uncle Sam

SURPRISED AT STEP TAKEN WITH JAPAN

Chinese Embassy Refuses To Discuss the Situation Today

By Robert J. Benler

Washington, Nov. 10—China feels that the United States has "double-crossed" her in the formal "understanding" reached recently between Viscount Ishii of the Japanese mission ond Secretary of State Lansing. She may even decide to ignore the plan for recognition of special rights to Japan.

From sources close to the Chinese government the United States learned today that China was surprised and bewildered when it learned the contents of the Ishii-LLansing correspondence. Neither through its representatives at Washington nor directly through the Peking foreign office was the Chinese government appraised of the momentous agreement entered into by Japan and America directly concerning future relations in China.

The Chinese embassy refused to discuss the situation today, even when shown United Press dispatches from Tokio indicating that the foreign office had been moved to formal indicating its displeasure.

From other high sources close to the Peking government however, it was learned that China, not having been consulted in the new understanding, may be disposed to consider that it has no binding force upon China's actions . The agreement, according to the Chinese view contravenes existing treaties between China and other powers. Moreover, it was not ratified by the United States senate and this makes the Chinese curious as to just what binding power it has on America.

SEED CORN SURVEY SHOWS BIG SHORTAGE

State Needs 449,500 Bushels For Spring Planting. Investigators Find Only 14,560 Bushels

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 10—The special corps of the state's leading corn growers and county agricultural agents, which for the past two months been conducting a seed corn survey of the state for the Michigan Agicultural college, has reported that its search thus far has located but 14,560 bushels-or barely enough to plant a single county. The state, to plant as great an acreage as was grown this year, must have at least 449,500 bushels by next spring.

In the course of their seed corn hunt, the "scouts" visited every corn growing county in the state and got into direct touch with the farmers themselves. Such as possessed corn suitable for seed were listed. The corn so held totalled just 14,560 bushels, the quantity reported.

"There is no doubt but what many farms were missed and that there is a considerable quanitiy of seed corn in the state that has not been reported," said Prof. J. F. Cox, undr whose direcion the survey was conducted, "but even if the most liberal kind of an allowance is made for these, the Shortage is still great. If there is 20 times as much corn as has been found, we still lack 150,000 bushels.

"It is certain that there is not nearly enough corn being properly handled to insure a supply to plant next spring's crop. It is highly important that all corn mature enough to grow be properly stored for seed purposes. Corn in the dent will make good seed if it is cured where it will dry quickly and thoroughly before it is frozen.

"Wherever possible farmers who have no corn siutable for seed should secure seed corn at once from such of their neighbors as can supply them, take it home, and properly cure and store it.

In meeting the emergency the cooperation of Michigan seed companies has been sought by the college. These are being supplied with a list of names of farmers who have good seed corn for sale and the seed men are getting hold of this supply for distribution. Bankers, grain dealers, elevator men and business men are also being called upon to give whatever service they can. The situation has been complicated, it added by Dean R. S. Shaw of the college, by the fact that with the scarcity of corn there i also a scarcity of labor and storing facilities which have hindered farmers in handling even what corn they have.

It has accordingly been suggested that available storage rooms in rural villages and towns be placed at the disposal of farmers for this purpose, and that elevator men and grain dealers also give what assistance they can in this direction.

Store roomscan be equipped with proper racks on which corn can be laid, or hung from wires, so as to dry rapidly. Where labor is scarce the people of country towns and cities can render an incalculable service by aiding in husking and selecting seed corn in preparing suitable racks and hangers, and in seeing to it that all the corn which can be obtained from the country is properly stored. The Michigan Agricultural College is sending specialists to give instructions in regard to building proper storage facilities."

ITALY RETIRES PAST THE PIAVE RIVER TODAY

Reports Say Withdrawal Was Success and Praise Splendid Defense

MILLION HOMELESS AND IN DIRE NEED IN ROME

Military Exigencies Dictate Complete Evacuation of Territory

By JOHN H. HEARLEY

Rome, Nov. 10—Italy's retirement to behind the Piave river defence line had been practically accomplished today. Reports dwelt upon the success of the withdrawal and of the splendid defence position in which the Italian lines were now drawn to receive and sustain the shock of the Austro-German invasion.

The magnitude of the task of withdrawal behind the Piave line was made apparent with the arrival of countless refugees from that territory. It was estimated that there are now a million homeless people in Rome, many in dire need. Military exigencies dictated the complete civil as well as military evacuation of all the territory between the Livenza and Piave rivers. Such villages and cities as Belluno, Vitoria, Conegliano, Pareonone, Sacile and Ordergo were completely stripped of their inhabitants. The enemy will find them literally shells.

The abandonment of territory to the invaders heretofore has not been on such a large scale. The evacuation for the retreat across the Tagliamento was only partial, presumably because the Italian commander, expected to make its final stand before the enemy along that line.

Collections in Rome for civil relief have reached 78,000,000 lire (about $15,600,000). Much more is needed.

Cardinal Lafontaine, patriarch of Venice, today appealed to the populace of that city to "remain calm and pray to God to preserve them and their homes.'" Dispatches from Venice today said extraordinary precautions had been adopted to save precious art works thehe.

RUSSIAN RADICALS IN CONTROL OF MOSCOW

SALEM BRUNDAGE SUDDENLY TAKEN

FALLS WHILE AT WORK THIS MORNING AT CORNER OF MICHIGAN AVE. AND WASHINGTON STREET

A few minutes after he had commenced his work this morning Salem Brundage, 11 Prospect street, fell at the corner of Washington street and Michigan avenue and was dead before a physician could be summoned. Heart trouble is given as the cause.

Mr. Brundage was 71 years of age. He has been in the employ of the city for some time and was apparently in good health this morning when he started his work. He fell without warning and Dan O'Brien who was with him called others who were near and took him to Dr. Westfall's office. The doctor made immediate examination but could find no trace of life.

Mrs. Brundage and three children, Perry, of Lansing; Mrs. Lois Helverman, Belleville; and Oscar are living. It is not known where Oscar is at present. He enlisted and left only a few days ago to take up military duties in an ambulance corps. Efforts are being made to get word of his father's death to him and it is probable that he will be located today.

Mr. Brundage was a well-known resident of Ypsilanti. He had lived here nine years and prior to that time had been a resident of Sumpter. The greater part of his life was spent there on a farm and he had many friends in that vicinity.

That is Outlook According to Sergt. Boyce Who is Here On Five Day Leave

Sergeant John P. Boyce of the medical department of the 352nd Infantry is home from Camp Dodge, Iowa, spending a five day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Boyce.

Philip, as he is known here, was seen by a Daily Ypsilantian-Press representative and talked entertainingly of the work at Camp Dodge. He says there are 25000 men there now and there will probably be 35000 as soon as the second draft men get in. They begin to come November 15.

Sergeant Boyce's present work is largely devoted to physical examination service for the men when they arrive. When his company reaches France, the work will be field hospital service in connection with his regiment wherever it goes.

Philip says he and the others officers, are eager to get away to the front and help get the job done.

He showed a copy of "The Camp Dodge," the first newspaper in the National Army. It is the official publication of the 88th Division, U. S. N. A. It is a six page, eight column newsy paper, edited and published by the officers and men at the camp. It is a credit to this branch of the army.

Many Refuse, However to Believe That They Have Chance to Win

TEMPORARY RISE WILL MEAN REVOLUTION

Collapse of Country Turns Minds at Washington to Big Problems

Washington, Nov. 10.—The lingering official hope that Krenesky could re-establish the old provisional government was badly shocked today by reports that the radicals control Moscow.

But Russian embassy officials still refuse to believe Maximalist Bolsheviki movement will succeed. Its temporary rise to power will mean bloodshed and counter-revolutions, they declared. A political policy built upon theoretical and Utopian principles in the midst of this war cannot permanently endure, according to the embassy.

The collapse of Russia, for which Italy already has paid a dear price, turned official minds in Washington to a multitude of international problems. There were such questions as whether Russia should be allowed representation in the coming inter-Allied conference and whether American loans and supplies should continue to go to Russia's aid.

Final decision will be withheld until official news is received from Amican diplomats abroad.

Russia's right to settle her internal problems in her own way is not denied by this government. If the people support the Bolsheviki according to President Wilson's own democratic principles there will be no interference by the U. S. But whether it should lend further support to a potential ally of Germany, as a Russia led by Lenine and Trotsky may be regarded, would be dtermined by military and not political consideration.

While a separate peace with Germany is not yet mentioned Lenine is ready to consider proposals from either side. Officials gained consolation in the belief that Lenine will not dare surrender Russian territory and thus affront the peasants' love for the motherland.

Not much hope is placed in Lenine's faint suggestion to the German people to join the democratic nations. Military advantages to Germany from Russia's debacle will over shadow this suggestion. A separate peace such as the Russian people might accept, entailing surrender of Germany's present policy.

Early today the embassy had received no reports of the week's happenings from Petrograd. Both embassy and state department were doing their utmost to obtain complete ocffiial reports from Petrograd, believing the Maximalists and Bolsheviki in control of cummunications were giving only their own side publicity. Code telegrams have been subject to several days' delay in the past, it was said.

TROOP CHANGES RAISE QUESTIONS

Taking Over of State Men By Remaining Officers Makes Legal Trouble

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 10—The taking over of the Michigan State troops by the remaining officers of the Michigan National Guard and the placing of the newly organized units virtually in the same position as that of the old National Guard, has raised many legal questions at the capitol which may have to be answered before many moves on the state military board are made.

If the governor should by proclamation reorganize the National Guard using the troop units, it is believed that the troops would be under national control. Some militar; men here say the state troops as now organized are answerable to call of the president.

Taken from any angle, it is a close legal question as to what the Michigan state troops really are subject. Word from Washington as to the exact position of the government is anxiously awaited.

Petitions and Communications

Sumner Damon, City Clerk,
Ypsilanti, Mich.

Dear Mr. Damon:—

I have today appointed W. H. Harrington Special Fuel Commissioner of Ypsilanti, subject to confirmation of the City Council.

The step is taken at the request of Gov. Sleeper and State Fuel Commissioner Prudden, whose desire is that every city is to have some individual competent to act in this work.

I have appointed Mr. Harrington for the reason that he is extremely competent in this work, knowing every angle of the railroad and mining business, reconsigning of cars, etc., as well as being acquainted with operators and has demonstrated his ability to get coal while other cities have been unable to get results.

I think we are fortunate in having a man of his capacity and feel confident you will back me up. From indications, the next four months will be a very serious time for the country at large in procuring the necessary fuel, and it will require constant attention on our part to see that Ypsilanti is taken care of.

Yours respectfully,
C. V. BROWN.

Resolution by Alderman Sinkule:

Resolved that the Mayor's appointment of W. H. Harrington, as fuel commissioner be confirmed, and that his term of office and powers as defined below shall be granted for such a time as the occasion demands:—

All coal purchased by the city or shipped to Ypsilanti for distribution from the state or federal fuel commission shall be distributed by the fuel commissioner of the city to the dealers and industries as necessity demands.

The fuel commissioner shall take into account the available supply in the hands of the respective dealers at the time of distribution.

The Fuel commissioner is authorized to demand from all dealers daily report of cars received and at such times as necessary the amount of coal on hand in the possession of any or all dealers.

The fuel commissioner is authorized to direct any dealer to supply coal where extreme necessity requires.

The Fuel Commissioner is authorized to arrange for contract for and purchase sufficient coal to supply the needs of the community as presented to him in such amounts as necessity requires, under direction of the Mayor.

The Fuel Commissioner is authorized to demand of any dealer any information necessary to the proper distribution of coal.

The Fuel Commissioner shall take into account the manner in which the coal supplied to dealers is distributed and is authorized to limit the amount of coal distributed to any one consumer when shortage of available coal exists.

The fuel commissioner shall distribute all coal through the dealers of the city excepting industries using steam coal for power plants in carloads or Municipal or Government use.

The fuel commissioner shall at all times act in conjunction with and under the direction of the Mayor of Ypsilanti and all coal contracted for shall be shipped to the mayor and distributed by the fuel commissioner.

The City of Ypsilanti shall furnish the fuel commissioner with such supplies as necessary for his work.

The fuel commissioner shall receive no stated salary, it being the intention to make a sufficient charge to the dealers or industrial plants, or other persons or corporations supplied with coal to take care of any expenses to the city other than incidental expenses.

AUCTION SALE

By
Washtenaw County Holstein-Friesian Cattle Breeders' Club
Ypsilanti, Michigan

At Ypsiland Farms, one and one-half miles west of City on Electric Line.

November 14 at 10 a. m.

The sale will comprise over Fifty Head, all registered, from the herds of the members of this Breeders' Club. Over half of the offerings are cows, a majority being either in the advanced registry (one or more over 25 pounds) or out of A. R. O. dams. They are fresh or bred to high class sires to freshen thru this fall and winter. The balance of the females are heifers under two years.

Fifteen granddaughters and six great granddaughters of King of the Pontiacs and Pontiac Korndyke are among the attractive offerings.

King Pontiac Jewel Korndyke No. 94184 will be offered, simply because the herd which he has headed for four years finds it necessary, to avoid inbreeding, to dispose of him. He is a son of King of the Pontiacs, the greatest living dairy sire, with more 30 pound daughters, more 40 pound daughters, and more A. R. O. daughters than any living sire. His dam is a daughter of De Kol 2d's Butter Boy 3d, and his granddam a daughter of Pontiac Korndyke. He has 10 A. R. O. daughters to his credit and many more coming on to test. This is an unusual opportunity for one or more breeders to procure a tested sire, gentle and all right in every way and right in his prime.

Besides "King" will be offered three young sires. Other sires represented in the breeding of offerings in this sale are: King Lunde Pontiac Korndyke 15th No. 142487, out of a son of King of the Pontiacs and a daughter of Pontiac Korndyke; Mercena De Nijlander No. 149013, out of a son of Pontiac De Nijlander (35 pounds); Sir Mina Korndyke No. 129169, a good son of Pontiac Korndyke; King Hartog Elzevere No. 70642; Vale Piebe Paul De Kol No. 44073; Ordello Lyons 2d's Count No. 35419; Woodcrest De Kol Lad No. 45103; Elzevere King of Butter Kings No. 71595.

Get Your Catalog and Come to This Sale

There will be attractive offerings for the discriminating breeder able to pay any price, for him who desires to get started in pure bred cattle at a moderate price, and for him who has grade cattle and recognizes the profit in using a pure bred sire.

All animals old enough will be tuberculin tested.

HOLSTEIN-FRIESIAN BREEDERS POINT OUT GOOD WAY TO PREVENT THREATENED MILK FAMINE IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE

Those who have been keeping pretty close tab on the milk situation in this country have been alarmed at the facts and have been quietly taking steps to prevent, if possible, a threatened "Milk famine." The high price of meat together with the high cost of feed have tempted many farmers to dispose of cows for meat. This results in a double loss, the loss of milk which is more important than meat in the dietary of the nation and the loss of a mother to help build up the depleted ranks in the dairy industry.

The government thru Mr. Hoover is cooperating to protect this vital industry to the welfare of the nation. An embargo on cotton seed meal and oil cake is one of the results which is intended to cheapen the cost of feed for the dairy farmer. Fifteen cent milk has within the past few days been arranged for in Detroit so that the outlook is encouraging for the dairy farmer to maintain his business on its present basis and to assist him in promoting it.

In connection with this problem at it affects us locally there will be a public sale at Ypsiland Farms next Wednesday of about 60 head of registered Holstein-Friesian cattle, by the Washtenaw County Holstein-Friesian Cattle Breeders' club. The secretary of the club pointed out to the Press today the importance to this community of keeping as many of these cattle as possible here instead of permitting them to be taken away to solve the milk situation in some other part of the country. He summed up the situation in this way: "This section of the country is within 40 miles of at least a million and a half people who consume milk three times a day. And this milk consuming population is rapidly on the increase. The demand for milk will surely increase commensurately. When Holland, the leading dairy country in the world, is beefing its cows to feed soldiers and buying condensed milk in America by the million cans, it is obvious that American farmers should increase their milk output and also increase their purebred stock for the livestock industry of Europe will have to be rebuilt thru foundation stock from this country after the war is over. Farmers should not make the mistake of being tempted by high prices for grain to 'mine' their farms of their fertility during the war by selling grain instead of feeding it."

DO IT IN A BUSINESS WAY! If you keep boarders, make it pay. The business is just as worthy as any other. It is subject to the same difficulties as the hotel business. Chief of the difficulties is that of "keeping the house filled with guests." A boarding house, like a hotel, cannot prosper if it is doing only half as much business as it is capable of handling. ADVERTISE that boarding house. Make the maximum possible income the mark at which you aim, and advertise until it is reached.

For Girls of the Northland

Rain or shine, snow or blow, the wearer of a coat like that pictured here may go comfortably on her way. There has been no creation of the hours more dependable than the plushes that have made such progress during the last decade and it is because they have such honest qualities of wear, resistance and warmth, that effort has been spent on perfecting them. They have been made to simulate the short-haired furs almost to perfection. Seal, broad tail and caracul plushes are almost replicas of these skins—all of them rich looking enough to make up, and trimmed with handsome, genuine furs.

The coat shown in the picture is of seal plush finished with a square cape collar of fur which narrows at the front and is lengthened into revers. It may be rolled up about the neck high enough to muffle the throat completely.

This cape collar is made of an inexpensive but effective fur, bluish gray in color, and finished with tails across the back. The imaginative furrier calls fur of this kind "blue wolf," or "kit fox," or some other name to which it is entitled only by his cleverness in dyeing it. The wearers of these pelts knew better than to be caught napping near a wolf, and were not on speaking terms with any fox.

When the out-of-doors girl of the north sets about acquiring a coat to live in, she will do well to consider these fur-trimmed, plush coats, that are shown in considerable variety. Like fur, the plush coat can be worn anywhere and any time. They are all long, reaching nearly to the bottom of the skirt. In this model the back is cut with a flare, the front plain and straight with fullness enough at the sides to hang in folds. A narrow belt across the front is made of the plush and the plain coat sleeves have deep cuffs of it. These coats are usually lined with a lining satin of the same sturdy character as the plush.
